

BREANISH TWEED

Hand woven in the Outer Hebrides, Scotland

Hand woven in the Outer Hebrides of Scotland, Breanish Tweed produces the finest of lightweight tweeds. We are a bespoke weaver, incorporating different yarns into our cloths such as Shetland wool, lambswool and cashmere.

Our hand woven tweed is used by bespoke tailors and fashion houses around the world. We have also developed a range of tweeds perfect for interiors.

Breanish Tweed has been in existence since 1980. Founded by Ian Sutherland in the village of Breanish, it is now run by the Macleod family in the village of Ness, on the Isle of Lewis.

Our tweed is hand woven by our master weavers on single-width Hattersley looms.

Karin Slater 'warping' a tweed

The tweed is 'warped' by hand, in preparation for going into the loom, a practice now seldom found anywhere else.

The Outer Hebrides is world famous for its weaving heritage. In the mid-19th century, Lady Dunmore requested that island weavers copy a Murray tartan, and the wider tweed industry was born.

It is this heritage which we draw on, but taking it forward to include new yarn types and colour combinations.

Stock supported tweeds

We offer a bunch book of patterns which are stock supported. Cut lengths of these tweeds can be bought.

Bespoke Weaving

At Breanish Tweed we are able to design and weave cloth to your specifications. We can create a 'pattern blanket' for you based on the designs and colours of your choice.

Our tweeds are as at home on the catwalk as on the moors of the Glorious Twelfth.

Breanish Tweed – Drawing on a rich heritage, modern and adaptable, hand woven with care and skill.*

We look forward to being of service.
